

affidavits of jurors and a witness to juror interviews, testimony at in camera proceedings, and other evidence including Ms. Hill's own book. The Court, therefore, must hold a Remmer evidentiary hearing. Smith, 455 U.S. at 215; Barnes, 751 F.3d at 242. If the allegations are proven at the evidentiary hearing, then under binding appellate precedent the Court must grant a new trial unless it "clearly appears that the subject matter of the communication was harmless and could not have affected the verdict." Cameron, 311 S.C. at 207–08, 428 S.E.2d at 12. The subject matter of Ms. Hill's communications was the evidence being presented at trial by the defense. These improper comments and efforts to influence the jurors' verdict vitiated the sanctity of the jury's deliberation and Murdaugh's sacrosanct right to a fair and impartial jury. Therefore, the Court must grant a new trial if the allegations are proven.

In a six-week trial, people will talk when they should not. They will say things they should not say. Mistakes will be made. The participants in a trial are fallible human beings. Lawyers combing the proceedings after the fact will always find they made mistakes and errors. If that were enough to force a redo of the trial, no verdict would stand, and trials would be repeated forever. To avoid that, Courts properly strain to find that mistakes made during trial are "harmless," meaning they did not change the result.

But the issue now before the Court are not the ordinary and inevitable mistakes that occur in any trial. The issue here is that an elected state official engaged in intentional misconduct—deliberately violating a defendant's constitutional right to a fair trial before an impartial jury—to secure financial gain for herself. Where a state actor engages in private communication with the jury about the merits of the prosecution, the verdict is impossible to sustain. For example, in Parker v. Gladden, a bailiff told a juror in a murder trial "that wicked fellow, he is guilty." 385 U.S. 363, 363 (1966). The Supreme Court of Oregon held the statement did not require a new trial because it was not shown the statement prejudiced the outcome of the trial. The U.S. Supreme Court reversed, holding “[t]he evidence developed against a defendant shall come from the witness stand in a public courtroom where there is full judicial protection of the defendant’s right of confrontation, of cross-examination, and of counsel,” and “[w]e have followed the undeviating rule, that the rights of confrontation and cross-examination are among the fundamental requirements of a constitutionally fair trial.” Id. at 364–65 (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).

In this case, the Court has declared on the record that “the verdict that you’ve [the jury] reached is supported by the evidence, circumstantial evidence, direct evidence, all of the evidence pointed to only one conclusion, that’s the conclusion you all [the jury] reach now.” Video of Trial Proceedings at 10:00:32–:51, Mar. 2, 2023, available at https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nbuMq15qY2Q&ab\_channel=ABCNews4. The Court has, therefore, foreshadowed the outcome of any “harmless error” analysis. But the rule for deciding whether to grant a new trial is not whether the Court believes the outcome of the trial would have been the same had Ms. Hill’s jury tampering not occurred. If that were the case, the Court would sustain a guilty verdict even if she coerced the jury to vote guilty at gunpoint, because, in the Court’s opinion, “all of the evidence pointed to only one conclusion”—the guilt of the accused. If the strength of the evidence against the accused in the eyes of the Court excuses deliberate jury tampering by a state actor, the result is a directed verdict for the prosecution, a structural error. That cannot be the law. Cf. Neder v. United States, 527 U.S. 1, 34 (1999) (Scalia, J., concurring in part) (noting that even if “the judge certainly reached the ‘right’ result,” “a directed verdict against the defendant . . . would be per se reversible no matter how overwhelming the unfavorable evidence,” because “[t]he very premise of structural-error review is that even convictions reflecting the ‘right’ result are reversed for the sake of protecting a basic right.” (emphasis in original)).

Instead, the law requires the “subject matter” of the communication to be harmless—“clearly” harmless. Cameron, 311 S.C. at 208, 428 S.E.2d at 12. Asking the jury what it wants for lunch is clearly harmless. Telling it not to believe the defendant when he testifies is not.

Our Supreme Court recently made this point in State v. Green, 432 S.C. 97, 851 S.E.2d 440 (2020). In Green, during jury deliberations a juror asked a bailiff “what would happen in the event of a deadlock, and he responded the judge would likely give them an Allen charge and ask if they could stay later.” State v. Green, 427 S.C. 223, 229, 830 S.E.2d 711, 713 (Ct. App. 2019), aff’d as modified, 432 S.C. 97, 851 S.E.2d 440 (2020) (citation omitted). The Court of Appeals held the bailiff’s comments were presumptively prejudicial because of his official position, but that the State rebutted that presumption by showing that for various reasons the remark did not in fact influence the outcome of the jury’s deliberations. Id. at 236, 830 S.E.2d at 717.

The Supreme Court affirmed but modified the decision to correct the Court of Appeals’ reasoning. The communication was not presumptively prejudicial because the subject matter of the communication was harmless: “The bailiff’s actions here—though improper—did not touch the merits, but dealt only with the procedural question of how the judge might handle a jury impasse that apparently never materialized.” Green, 432 S.C. at 100, 851 S.E.2d at 441. In other words, a bailiff telling the jury that if it is deadlocked, the judge will instruct them to keep deliberating is improper but likely harmless because the subject matter is procedural or logistical, rather than to the merits of the case.

Telling the jury not to believe the defendant’s defense or his testimony when he testifies regards the merits of the case. Ms. Hill’s extensive, deliberate, and self-interested jury tampering far exceeds the simple bailiff mistakes that forced a retrial in Cameron, where “a bailiff’s misleading response to a juror’s question about sentencing options compromised the jury’s impartiality because it left the impression that their verdict could not affect the trial court’s sentencing discretion,” or in Blake by Adams v. Spartanburg General Hospital, where a bailiff told a juror “that the trial judge ‘did not like a hung jury, and that a hung jury places an extra burden on taxpayers.’” See State v. Green, 427 S.C. at 237, 830 S.E.2d at 717–18 (citing 311 S.C. at 208, 428 S.E.2d at 12 and quoting 307 S.C. 14, 16, 413 S.E.2d 816, 817 (1992)). Unlike the honest mistakes of the bailiffs in those cases, Ms. Hill had many private conversations with jurors about the merits of the case. She asked jurors about their opinions about Mr. Murdaugh’s guilt or innocence. She instructed them not to believe evidence presented in Mr. Murdaugh’s defense, including his own testimony. She lied to the judge to remove a juror she believed might not vote guilty, and she pressured jurors to reach a guilty verdict quickly so she could profit from it. Each of these actions violated Ms. Hill’s oath of office, her responsibility to the citizenry and the judiciary of this state, and Mr. Murdaugh’s constitutional right to a fair and impartial jury.

The law applied to these facts requires a new trial.

IV. Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, Mr. Murdaugh respectfully submits the Court must hold an evidentiary hearing to receive proof of the facts stated above. When those facts are proven, the Court must grant a new trial.

Respectfully submitted,

Richard A. Harpootlian, SC Bar No. 2725
Phillip D. Barber, SC Bar No. 103421
RICHARD A. HARPOOTLIAN, P.A.
1410 Laurel Street (29201)
Post Office Box 1090

OCT 27 2023 AM 10:13
COLLETON CO GS, REBECCA H. HILL

Columbia, South Carolina 29202
(803) 252-4848
rah@harpootlianlaw.com
pdb@harpootlianlaw.com

James M. Griffin, SC Bar No. 9995
Margaret N. Fox, SC Bar No. 76228
GRIFFIN HUMPHRIES LLC
4408 Forest Drive (29206)
Post Office Box 999
Columbia, South Carolina 29202
(803) 744-0800
jgriffin@griffinhumphries.com
mfox@griffinhumphries.com

Attorneys for Richard Alexander Murdaugh

October 27, 2023
Columbia, South Carolina.

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARK MEDIA

EXHIBIT A

(Affidavit of Juror No. 630)

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARK MEDIA

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA )
 )
COUNTY OF COLLETON )

AFFIDAVIT OF [REDACTED]
JUROR #630

PERSONALLY appeared before me, [REDACTED] who being first duly sworn, deposes and states as follows:

1. I was juror #630 in the case of State of South Carolina v. Richard Alexander Murdaugh tried in Colleton County, South Carolina.
2. Toward the end of the trial, after the President's Day break but before Mr. Murdaugh testified, the Clerk of Court, Rebecca Hill, told the jury "not to be fooled" by the evidence presented by Mr. Murdaugh's attorneys, which I understood to mean that Mr. Murdaugh would lie when he testified.
3. She also instructed the jury to "watch him closely" immediately before he testified, including "look at his actions" and "look at his movements," which I understood to mean that he was guilty.
4. Immediately after he testified, the foreperson, [REDACTED] Juror #826, said Mr. Murdaugh was crying on cue.
5. The foreperson, Juror #826, criticized the former foreperson, [REDACTED] Juror #589, for handing Mr. Murdaugh a box of tissues when he was crying on the stand while testifying about his murdered son. She told the jury we cannot interact with Mr. Murdaugh because "that is what the defense wants us to do."
6. The jury frequently discussed the case during breaks before deliberations.
7. Toward the end of the trial, Ms. Hill came into the jury room a lot.
8. Ms. Hill and the foreperson, Juror #826, had private conversations on multiple occasions. The foreperson, Juror #826, would tell the bailiff that she needed to speak with Ms. Hill. Ms. Hill would arrive, and then she and the foreperson, Juror #826, would go to another room to have a private conversation. The conversations typically lasted 5 to 10 minutes. The foreperson, Juror #826, never said anything about the content of the conversation. For example, she never communicated logistical information after those conversations. This happened two or more times, more frequently toward the end of the trial.

9. When we began deliberations, Ms. Hill told us that "this shouldn't take us long," and that if we deliberated past 11pm, we would be taken directly to a hotel. We had driven from our homes that morning and were not prepared to stay overnight. Additionally, smokers on the jury asked to be allowed to take smoke breaks but were told they could not smoke until deliberations were complete.
10. I had questions about Mr. Murdaugh's guilt but voted guilty because I felt pressured by the other jurors.
11. After the verdict and immediately before sentencing, Ms. Hill pressured the jury to speak as a group to reporters from the television show,

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NOT.

Juror #630

August 14, 2023

SWORN TO before me this 14 day
of August, 2023

Notary Public for South Carolina
My Commission Expires: July 25, 2032

EXHIBIT B

(Affidavit of H. Miller re Juror No. 741)

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARKY MEDIA

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA )
 )
COUNTY OF RICHLAND )

AFFIDAVIT OF HOLLI MILLER

PERSONALLY appeared before me, Holli Miller, who being first duly sworn, deposes and states as follows:

1. On August 6, 2023, Dick Harpootlian, Jim Griffin and I met with [REDACTED] Juror #741 in the case of State of South Carolina v. Richard Alexander Murdaugh at her home located at [REDACTED]
2. At the meeting on August 6, [REDACTED] indicated she would sign an affidavit. However, we were unable to arrange with her a suitable time and place.
3. During the meeting, [REDACTED] relayed the following information to us.
4. During the trial, she witnessed the Clerk of Court, Becky Hill, come to the jury room and Ms. Hill and the foreperson [REDACTED] #826 went into the bathroom. After Ms. Hill and the foreperson exited the bathroom, Ms. Hill told the jurors they could not ask the foreperson questions.
5. Several times during the trial, Ms. Hill told the jurors that the media would want to interview jurors at the end of the trial and during one of these conversations she passed out business cards from the media to jurors. At the end of the trial, Ms. Hill told [REDACTED] that no one from the media wanted to interview her.
6. Right before the defense put up their case, Ms. Hill told the jurors "Y'all are going to hear things that will throw you all off. Don't let this distract you or mislead you."
7. After Alex testified, eight jurors indicated they did not believe his testimony.
8. [REDACTED] recalled [REDACTED] Juror #544 (known as "Boston" by many of the jurors) was very emotional during the trial.

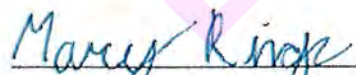

9. During the visit to Moselle, [REDACTED] Juror #826 and [REDACTED] walked to the scene together. Then Juror #826 began walking with the Clerk of Court, Becky Hill.
10. There were times the jurors were not kept together, but were in two separate rooms. [REDACTED] noticed jurors talking about the case before deliberations began. Neither she nor [REDACTED] Juror #785 joined in on the conversations about Alex.
11. As the jury was deliberating, she believes Judge Newman came to the room she was in and told her the jury would have to spend the night at a hotel if they did not have a vote by a certain time, but she does not recall the time deadline.
12. [REDACTED] Juror #741 was the first former juror to provide information that the Clerk of Court made statements to members of the jury about the evidence presented during the trial, prior to jury deliberations. Ms. Hill's conduct was corroborated by other jurors during subsequent interviews.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NOT.

Holli Miller

September 1, 2023

SWORN TO before me this 1st day
of September, 2023

Notary Public for South Carolina
My Commission Expires: 6/27/33

EXHIBIT C

(Draft Transcript of Records Excerpt from in camera conference, March 1, 2023)

LUNA COURT REPORTING & MEDIA

1 to withhold any opinions. And then they say: Can't talk to 2 you anymore, and walks off. They're off the jury?

3 THE COURT: Okay. Well, let me see what Becky is 4 talking about. I wanted to revisit the Facebook post that 5 you mentioned yesterday.

6 MS. HILL: Uh-huh, right.

7 THE COURT: That's Becky Hill, the Clerk of Court. Can
8 you tell us about that Facebook post?

9 MS. HILL: Yes. I think it was Friday evening just for 10 a brief moment I perused Facebook, got on Walterboro Word of 11 Mouth, and saw where someone had said that -- well, it was 12 the ex-husband of a juror, and he said that he noticed that 13 his ex-wife was saying that she was on the jury and saying 14 stuff about how her verdict was going to be, and that he was 15 the ex-husband but she was known for talking way too much.
16 And then I just kept on scrolling because that was enough
17 for me. I've gotten enough.

18 THE COURT: And how did you determine who he was 19 talking about?

20 MS. HILL: When I heard there was an email on Monday I
21 figured the two went together, if it was true.

22 THE COURT: Well, she's confirmed she has an ex-husband
23 who she has three restraining orders out against so --

24 MS. HILL: Right. So then we looked on Monday after 25 you told me to try to go back and look for it and we

1 couldn't find it. But then we found out his name, and we 2 found the post and printed it out where he said that he had
3 put something up, but that he had deleted it at the time
4 that he had put stuff out there that wasn't nice.

5 THE COURT: He said he got drunk afterwards.

6 MR. MEADORS: Something about the devil.

7 MR. HARPOOTLIAN: Didn't he say it was satan in it?

8 MS. HILL: Satan was in it, yes. In all of the 9 details, yes.

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 MS. HILL: Made me do it.

12 THE COURT: Okay. I just wanted to have that on the 13 record, you're reading a Facebook post by the ex-husband who 14 said it. Of course, you haven't talked with him so you 15 don't know where he got his information from.

16 MS. HILL: I don't. I can find it, though.

17 MR. FERNANDEZ: We do know his name for what it's 18 worth.

19 THE COURT: Do you think he will be sober?

20 MS. HILL: I don't know. Probably not if I had to 21 guess.

22 MR. HARPOOTLIAN: It is Wednesday. Well, is today
23 Tuesday or Wednesday?

24 MR. FERNANDEZ: Wednesday.

25 MR. HARPOOTLIAN: Well, it's Wednesday night so he's

EXHIBIT D

(Rebecca Hill, Behind the Doors of Justice excerpts)

---

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARKEY MEDIA

REBECCA "BECKY" H. HILL

Clerk of Court

with

NEIL R. GORDON

Rebecca Gordon

BEHIND THE

DOORS OF JUSTICE:

THE MURDAUGH MURDERS

professional, and we bonded over a cancer diagnosis that both of our families had endured.

While Dateline producers were in town for the trial in February 2023, they asked for Judge Newman's cell phone number, which I was given permission to provide to them. Then Craig reached out to Judge Newman to reconnect.

Craig grew up in Columbia, South Carolina, where his family and Judge Newman's family knew each other. In fact, Craig was friends with Judge Newman's late son.

As Judge Newman was beginning his first of many terms as a circuit court judge in Columbia, Craig was beginning his career there at WIS-TV before getting recruited to a station in Washington, DC, and then the NBC network in New York.

That exclusive interview with Judge Newman and his daughter—also a judge—took place in Columbia.

Valerie Bauerlein

Valerie Bauerlein is a national Wall Street Journal reporter who has covered the South for eighteen years. She was the pool reporter sent to Moselle with pool photographer Andrew J. Whitaker of The Post and Courier newspaper.

In October 2021, Valerie signed a book deal with a division of the iconic Penguin Random House publishing company for a book project about the Murdaugh family of South Carolina.

As it so happened, my fifty-fifth birthday fell during the trial in the spring of 2023. My birthday is March 10, and Valerie was born in late February, so it was decided to have a party for both of us at her Airbnb on the night of her birthday! She invited many of her colleagues who were covering the trial for the regional and national media outlets. There was food, birthday cake, a lot of laughs, and a little "truth serum" in the form of liquid refreshments!

As we were cleaning up after the party, a few of us were asked how we would vote at that point in the trial if we were members of the jury. Before answering, we pledged a "cone of silence," and for that reason, I cannot reveal the results of our "straw jury poll." What I can say is that many of the party guests agreed with what ended up becoming the actual verdict of the trial.

The Today Show and Dateline

Sunday night after Alex was sentenced, I accompanied three jurors from the trial to New York City. As I mentioned earlier, Craig Melvin and Savannah Guthrie of The Today Show interviewed the three jurors during a seven-minute, high-energy segment.

While we were all in The Today Show green room, we met and took photos with country music star Dustin Lynch, who was also getting ready to appear on the program to sing one of his hit songs.

Once the taping of The Today Show concluded, we were whisked away from the 850-foot skyscraper building by a driver in a black Chevy Tahoe to a different studio near 30 Rock, where Dateline tapes some of its segments. What stuck out to me was that one of the jurors mentioned to a producer that she had a craving for pizza and cheesecake, and the next thing we knew, both were delivered in time for lunch!

This trip was extra special for me because it was my first time ever flying in an airplane! We flew from Charleston to New York City, and could order whatever we wanted! I chose pretzels and a Coke to relieve some of my anxiety. Then a black Chevy Tahoe car service was sent to pick us up from LaGuardia Airport, and we got to ride through one of those dark, underwater tunnels that let us out in the "city that never sleeps!"

NBC put us in the hands of the fabulous Haylee Barber, Dateline Producer, who put all of us up at a nice Manhattan hotel and fed us at a restaurant on the Avenue of the Americas, a block away from 30 Rock in Midtown Manhattan on the eve of the interviews. Afterwards, the jurors told me they felt like they were heard and loved their fifteen minutes of fame in the Big Apple.

CHAPTER 12

WE, THE PEOPLE: DUTY,
HONOR AND SERVICE

"Serve wholeheartedly, as if you were serving the Lord, not people, because you know that the Lord will reward each one for whatever good they do."

—Ephesians 6:7–8, New International Version (NIV)

Working with jurors is always a unique experience, and like with any jury, we had some behind-the-scenes happenings with our jurors, the alternates, and the originals for the Murdaugh trial.

While most of the jurors were focused and engaged during the Murdaugh trial, we did have one juror, who was an alternate at one point, who was not. She was more focused on the crowd: who was watching, who was or wasn't following Judge Newman's rules, and so on. For example, she "caught" a new visitor to the courtroom, who was sitting directly across from her, who looked like she may have been taking a picture of the jury, and that wasn't going to fly with her.

Another juror couldn't, or wouldn't, sit still during the trial and it seemed like every time she shifted her chair, it made a loud squeak. Occasionally attorneys would wait for the rhythm of the squeaks to subside before continuing their cross-examination.

Then there was the "egg lady" juror. This juror worked on a monkey farm in the Lowcountry, and she drove Judge Newman bananas one weekend—pun intended! Through the Facebook page "Walterboro Word of Mouth," about 20,000 followers saw this juror's ex-husband post about how she was talking way too much to friends and family about the case. Many people became aware of the situation after court on Friday, February 24, and it was brought to the attention of Judge Newman. I typically didn't have the time or energy to watch any media coverage of the trial, but on that Friday night, I scrolled through the "Walterboro Word of Mouth" social media feed and saw the post from the ex-husband, but he didn't mention the juror's name or her juror number.

At the time, I didn't think anything of it and kept scrolling, mainly because I had been inundated with emails and messages from people all over the world about what they had heard, what they had seen, how the prosecution and defense should run their cases, how Judge Newman should rule, what to address with anyone and everyone involved in the courthouse, and so on. I felt like a principal dealing with tattletales and problems and issues every day. It was tiring.

When Monday morning came, Judge Newman asked me to find the social media post. One of our techies in the clerk's office, Lori Weiss, looked and couldn't find it at first. Luckily, though, she kept looking and saw where the post was taken down and replaced with an apology from the juror's ex-husband. He said Satan had gotten a hold of him, and he had been drinking at the time he posted and was now very sorry.

After Judge Newman interviewed the juror and corroborating witnesses about this situation, he removed the juror from the jury before court started that Monday morning. We learned later the ex-spouses hadn't seen each other in fourteen years and the former juror had three restraining orders against her ex-husband.

When a juror is removed from a jury, it's normal practice for the judge to ask if there are any personal items they'd like to retrieve from the private jury room. When Judge Newman graciously presented this question to the former juror, she said she just wanted to get her eggs, which caused some laughter in the courtroom and nationally once the media got ahold of the story. Judge Newman even broke out into one of the largest grins I've ever seen.

One of the other jurors raised chickens on their farm and had brought in a dozen eggs to whomever wanted them. At this time, eggs were selling for about eight dollars a dozen, which was very high, so it's understandable why the removed juror wanted her eggs! One of our local singer/songwriters,

While the jurors viewed the Moselle property, we all could hear and see that Alex's story was impossible. God gives us all gifts, and the gift of discernment is shared by many. Some of us either from the courthouse, law enforcement, or jury at Moselle had an epiphany and shared our thoughts with our eyes. At that moment, many of us standing there knew. I knew and they knew that Alex was guilty.

Once we were all back inside our vehicles, heavyhearted and contemplative, our procession headed back along Highway 63 toward the town center of Walterboro. The wind had died down mysteriously, and the sun began to shine through the clouds.

One of the roles of the Clerk of Court is to be "Switzerland" between the jury, the lawyers, the public, and any other entities involved. In the moments riding back in our vehicle—and with the jurors and decision-makers in other vehicles—we were just "regular people," and our thoughts spilled out. Just as the jury would do in a span of three hours, we unanimously came to our own verdict in just three minutes: Guilty.

In my opinion, the decision to visit Moselle by Murdaugh's defense team did not work in their favor. "They were hoping to show that the proximity was too close for one shooter, and they felt like the pictures didn't show the distance correctly," said Doug Brown, who worked for the defense team during the trial.

Many of us question if Alex is bipolar, schizophrenic, or a narcissist, while some wonder if he snapped due to financial pressure, Paul's boating accident, and the crumbling of the family dynasty. Right is right, and wrong is wrong. When and where did this family begin to blur this fact of life? The moral compass that rules most law-abiding citizens didn't seem to exist in Alex. I don't really want to believe that a father could murder his son and wife. Sometimes, though, the line of love gets blurred and turns into a crime of passion and a crime of desperation. I believe most people cannot fathom killing or hurting a family member, especially in the name of love, but during our time at Moselle, Alex's fate was sealed.

EXHIBIT E

(Timothy Stone Facebook post)

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARK MEDIA

Timothy's Post

Timothy Stone

February 16 at 8:35 AM

Fake's post is a ugly post yesterday, to which I have deleted and I kinda in a round about way directed it towards a certain person and I would like to apologize to everyone who read it that ugly for me to do that and yes I let Satan control me and I broke down and started drinking and when I was drunk I made that post and I'm sorry

5

10 comments

Like

Comment

Share

Most relevant

Amy Corey

When life gets hard you're supposed to call on God but when you're down the devil finds a way to get in and when you let him he will take control pray for you Tim because you have a beautiful granddaughter that loves you and so many more of the grandbabies that love you and you will get through this just let God help you 🙏!! I love you men and I am praying 🙏 for you hope you have a blessed day 🙏!!

Like Reply 1w

Bobbie Jo Blackwell

Why apologize for something that you really meant? You meant what you said. Apologies don't mean anything if you constantly do it.

Like Reply 1w

Timothy Stone

Bobbie Jo Blackwell I'm human I make mistakes and no I didn't mean it.

Like Reply 1w

Bobbie Jo Blackwell

Timothy Stone apparently you did or you wouldn't of posted it for all to see

Like Reply 1w

Karen Smith

It is great that you apologized. You owe that to the person it was directed at and God. None of us can or should judge. I can however give you some suggestions. I remember when you posted about accepting Christ as your Savior which I Praise God. We all need salvation. But when you are a babe in Christ, the devil will do all to get you back. But Greater is He who is in you than he that is in the world. So grab that Bible, cling to God's Holy word, leave and let go of that world you left behind and ask God to rebuke Satan. Find a daily devotional, find a Bible God fearing preaching Church. Invest in the Love Dare 365 day devotional. My husband and I are doing it now. And please, we are all human, we will fail daily. But we need to kneel boldly before the Throne of God and give it all to him. And remember to stay off of social media when you aren't at your best. Prayers going up and out for you and your wife. Not preaching, just giving sound advise from someone who came through a life of misery to doing all I can to live for CHRIST. Hang in and hold on!!! 🙏

Like Reply 1w

Timothy Stone

Karen Smith thanks and where can I find that devotional book

Like Reply 1w

Bobbie Jo Blackwell

Karen Smith we are no longer together. I can't serve God and the devil both so I had to let go of what was keeping me from getting closer to God. You can't get to heaven holding on to someone else's skirt or shirt tail and think your going to make it. It's a relationship between you and God that will allow you to enter in. The walk with the Lord is straight and narrow and you've got to serve him with a whole heart and not just with half your heart or because your wife or your husband wants you to. It's something you have to do for yourself and nobody else.

Like Reply 1w

Karen Smith

Timothy Stone you can go on line and type in Love Dare devotion 365 day. But since see y all are not together, I would still recommend it. I have found out that alot of things that helps me personally and not just for my marriage. Prayers and may God's will be done!

Like Reply 1w

Karen Smith

Bobbie Jo Blackwell agreed and sorry to hear this. I was saved long before my husband and I were married. Had been through several bad relationships. So when I prayed to God to send me a husband like mine, if it be God's will, I made sure the day we got married I have this marriage to God. I myself could not do it on my own. It has had its ups and downs, but Praise God, it has lasted. Pray maybe it is not a time for y all. And if it is, my prayer is God will bless you first for you walk with him and expect that you will find happiness in the future. God be a blessing!

Like Reply 1w

Bobbie Jo Blackwell
Karen Smith thank you so much!

Like Reply 1w

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARK MEDIA

EXHIBIT F

(Affidavit of Tim Stone)

COURTESY OF
LUNA SHARK MEDIA