DOCKET No. 13D-1446

ORDER

This cause came to be heard on the 9th day of May, 2014 before the Honorable Philip E. Smith, Judge of the Fourth Circuit Court for Davidson County, Tennessee upon Husband's Motion to Modify the Court's prior Order that he pay the cost of mediation, and the Wife's Motion to Expand Mother's Parenting Time. After hearing argument of counsel, the Court denied Husband's Motion for Wife to contribute to the payment of the mediator fees, but without prejudice to the Court considering the allocation of mediation fees at the Final Hearing, and the Court continued the Motion to Expand Mother's Parenting Time, although the Court indicated that parenting time would be expanded upon the re-filing of Mother's Motion, together with Affidavits from her treating psychologist and psychiatrist, and Father's right, if necessary, to depose those mental health caregivers. It is, therefore,

ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Husband's Motion to Modify the Court's prior Order that he pay the cost of mediation is denied, and Wife shall not be required to contribute to the payment of the mediator fees, but this ruling is without prejudice to the Court considering the allocation of mediation fees at the Final Hearing; and it is further,

ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Wife's Motion to Expand Mother's Parenting Time will be continued, although parenting time will be expanded upon the re-filing of Mother's Motion, together with Affidavits from her treating psychologist and psychiatrist, and Father's right, if necessary, to promptly depose those mental health caregivers.

HELEN SFIKAS ROGERS

have settled in for the visit, it is time to get ready to leave. The children appear to feel rushed to leave so soon and are often unable to finish their activities or are rushed through the activity due to the time restraint of two hours.

6. From the limited time I have spent with the children and Mrs. Solomon, Mrs. Solomon has been appropriate during the supervised visitations. She has not initiated conversations about the legal proceedings with the children during visits. If questioned by the children about legal proceedings or the situation involving both parents Ms. Solomon uses age appropriate language and/or appropriate redirection and reassurance.

7. From my observations during supervised visitations, Ms. Solomon does not appear to be intoxicated or on drugs. Mrs. Solomon has been flexible arranging the visits to work around the children's activities and my schedule. She is mindful of the time during the visits and is prompt in paying for my services.

8. It is my opinion that Mrs. Solomon's parenting time with the children could easily be extended to at least four (4) hours every Saturday with me being present during part of the time and then further expanded at reasonable intervals working toward unsupervised time. It is my recommendation that my supervised visit be a two (2) hour random visit during the four (4) hour visitation. It is my recommendation that I have a minimum of ten (10) minutes with the children alone during my supervision to discuss any concerns that may have occurred during the visit that was unsupervised. In my experience with past similar supervised visitations I have found that this arrangement provides the least traumatic transition for the children given the circumstances. It is also proven in my past experience that this formula also assists in the eventual transition to unsupervised visits.

9. It is also my opinion that there should not be a problem for Ms. Solomon to attend all the children's school and extracurricular activities, perhaps with a friend accompanying her during those times provided that she not interrupt the activities.

10. Further, Affiant saith not.

DOCKET No. 13D-1446

MOTION TO EXPAND MOTHER'S PARENTING TIME

COMES NOW the Defendant/Wife, Angelia Solomon, by and through her attorney of record, and respectfully asks the Court for an order expanding her parenting time with the minor children and for cause would show to the Court as follows:

1. An Order was entered with the Court on January 8, 2014 allowing Mother only supervised parenting time each Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. at Mother's expense. Since the entry of the Order, Mother has visited with the minor children each Saturday since January 18, 2014 and both parents are now employed. The parties are parents of two (2) minor children, Grant, age 11 ½ and Gracie, age 7 ½.

2. Mother's visits with the children were first supervised by a third-party supervisor at Heath Connect. Beginning March 1, 2014, the parties agreed to use Mary Duff, LMSW, to privately supervise the visits at the Mother's home or at the children's activities. Ms. Duff works full time at Centennial Psychiatric Hospital and has been working part-time supervising visitation in cases for approximately five (5) years. Ms. Duff charges $75 per hour for supervision.

3. Mother and Father have worked together to schedule the visits around the children's sport activities. When the parties' daughter, Gracie, had soccer pictures scheduled during Mother's parenting time on March 29, 2014, by agreement Mother and the parties' son, accompanied by Ms.

Duff, drove Gracie to the gymnasium where the soccer pictures were to be taken. Mother and the children enjoyed the opportunity to be together away from the house.

4. There have been no problems during Mother's parenting time. Mother's short two (2) hour visits are not long enough for her and children to do more than share a quick meal or snack and start a short activity before it is time to prepare to leave. Mother tries to play a game of basketball with Grant and then take a few minutes to quickly paint Gracie's fingernails, but there is no time for anything else. Mother would state the children are excited to see her and disappointed when it is time to leave.

5. Mother would state that both children ask when they will be able to stay longer. Gracie asks repeatedly how much time is left and says that she does not understand why they cannot stay. Every week before Mother and the children eat, Mother asks Grant to give the blessing. Recently, Grant prayed for the time with his Mother to go slower because it always goes too fast.

6. Mother believes it is in children's best interest to increase the visits to at least four (4) hours if they continue supervised or, alternatively, allow Mother every Saturday unsupervised from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. with the children.

7. In addition to her increasing her regular Saturday visits, Mother would request that she be allowed to attend the children's extracurricular and school activities. At an activity, Mother would like to briefly say hello to the children, move away and observe the activity, then give the children a hug and say a quick goodbye. Mother proposes that she bring a friend to the activity, who has been previously been approved to accompany her, to the activity and who will stay with her at all times.

8. Mother further asks that any parenting Order of the Court include the standard parental rights which would allow her to communicate with the children's school.

Mother, thus, respectfully asks the Court for an order increasing her parenting time with the children to up to ten (10) hours every Saturday, allowing her to attend the children's school and extracurricular activities and that the standard parental rights be included as part of any parenting Order of the Court.

3. Mother recently notified Father that she would like to begin to comply with the court ordered 7:30 p.m. phone time whenever possible. Mother requested that Father have the children available at that time so she could call the children instead of the children always calling her.

4. Since that time, Mother has had numerous requests from Father to schedule Mother's calls at a different time. Mother has accommodated all these requests by telling Father that she is happy to talk to the children anytime. Please see emails attached as Collective Exhibit A.

5. Mother would state that Father continues to try to place Mother in a less than favorable position before the Court and to thwart all attempts Mother has made to comply with this Court's Orders, when he is violating her parental rights by listening to the calls.

Thus, Mother asks that the Court deny Father's Motion and order him to make the children available for her 7:30 p.m. telephone parenting time unless the children are participating in a ballgame or other such extracurricular activity that would prevent their talking to Mother. Mother also asks for her reasonable attorney fees and costs for having to defend this Motion and that she be allowed to attend the children's activities and see them there which would eliminate the need for calls on those days and nights.

Angie, once again it would be helpful in getting the kids in bed if Gracie could talk at 6:45 if you are available at that time.

With grant's basketball game being late last night, the kids got in bed a little later than normal which has made them a little more tired this evening. To get them in bed earlier it would help if they could call earlier than 7:30 it would help.
Thank you
