Hello Mark Hammond,

Thank you for helping me recently get my public notary seal and authorize name change since my first certificate was not made correctly. Since then, my legally separated husband has taken my seal while I was in the hospital for a week and now is refusing to give it back. I tried to report it stolen and ask for police escort to my marital property to retrieve it because my soon to be ex-husband has been trying to force me into signing a postnup that (after 6 years of marriage and 15 years of being an employee of Solid Rock Ministries Inc.) he is trying to leave me with nothing and he won't sign divorce papers until I agree to these terms. Because of this, I have reason to believe he may try to use my seal for his gain. Also I started a charity called "Dare to Care Missions" and collected donations under the watch of Solid Rock Ministries Inc. tax exempt and 501(2)(3) and after searching for my charity in public records I found out that Solid Rock Ministries Inc. never filed the charity and made it official and they are sending threats to my family saying they will arrest me because they are claiming I stole $4,000 from my own charity which I have proof that the only money that has been deposited into the charity bank account was my own funds and it was only $159 IN TOTAL. The church is also trying to make some large purchases that I believe to be illegitimate and that would require a notarization.

I am asking that you please put a hold on anything document with my seal because I have NEVER used it since the date I received it and to also investigate the two officers that escorting me into my home since I feared for my life around my husband due to past documented gun violence intimidation and domestic violence, and they would not even allow me to ask my husband for the location of my notary seal and they began shouting at me to leave MY HOME and said they would arrest me and kick me out forcefully if I didn't leave immediately even though I was in my own home which is marital property.

Thank you Mark Hammond and staff for reading and considering your future involvement and any investigating you are willing to do to make this horrible situation made right and in accordance with the law.

God Bless,

Mica Miller

Greetings Kataria

My name is JP Miller, I'm Mica Millers husband.
I have also included our bishop, Charles Randall on this email.

I saw the email that you sent to my wife, and just wanted to assure you that she is in no danger and all is well. She was recently left the mental hospital here in MB at south strand, and since getting out, she has not come home and is still suffering from bipolar and schizophrenia.

We are doing all we can to help her. And her seal, that she is so worried about, is perfectly safe.

Thank you
Jp miller
