Tricia,

I attempted to call you today and yesterday but did not receive an answer. I have copied Inspector Hemingway and Inspector Sissell of our Internal Affairs Division to take both your and JP's complaints for investigation. You will both need to provide contact information to them so they can reach you for follow-up.

Captain Strickland,

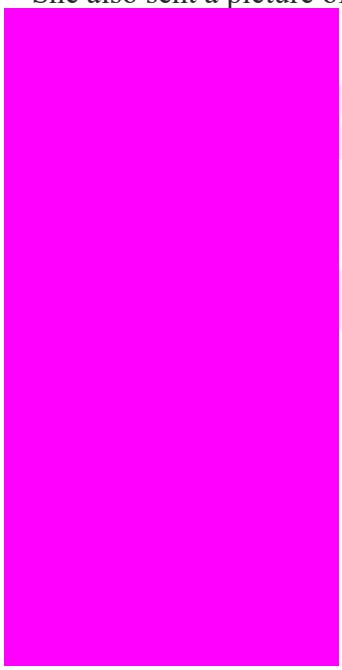

Respectfully sir, we would kindly ask you to look into some things for us. As you are aware there is a lot going on due to the unexpected death of our Pastors wife, Mica Miller. We are very concerned about the connections Heather Wilson has directly with the case and the fact that she is sharing things through texting that pertain to her suspicions that our Pastor "pushed her to suicide". This is unethical as a police officer to show bias with something that is not in the court system yet. In addition, the Pastors private investigator was able to find Heather's son, DJ, kissing and touching the Pastors wife. We have admissions as well to that contact. Heather has since threatned Pastor not to use her son's name. She has sent text messages to Pastor stating all his faults and a manipulated prayer with it. We do love Heather but its very concerning that as a police officer she is sharing with others her suspicions along with pictures. Slashed tires which have never been liked to the Pastor. Of course, people that see Heather sharing things as a police officer takes that for truth. My dad was a police officer and I'm pretty sure her actions are not ethical.

We are attaching photocopies of those mentioned correspondence. We are concerned for not only our safety but retaliation since she is a police officer. She mentions her suspicious of our Pastor having something to do with the wife's death.

There may also have been some sharing of a sexual registry of one of our members to get people to leave the church. Again, we just want everything to be fair and now they are saying Horry County Sheriffs office is handling an investigation and it could be a conflict with her so closely involved.

The most recent texts to me have pictures of our Pastor eating dinner. She sent is saying "this was him with another woman this past week too not to mention the others". She says I'm helping him. "Things like this and so much more sent her over the edge." Those are accusations that should not be coming from Heather being a police officer. It's very scary. She also sent a picture of our Pastor and another women to one of our members.

Thank you sir for your time.
