

BRIEFS

Solicitor recovering from heart attack

Fourteenth Judicial Circuit Solicitor Randolph Murdaugh III suffered a heart attack Tuesday while visiting his mother in Columbia.

Murdaugh, 57, was admitted Tuesday afternoon to Richland Memorial Hospital, where doctors performed angioplasty surgery.

"It was very successful," his son, Alex Murdaugh said Tuesday evening. "He's doing fine."

Murdaugh was visiting his mother, Gladys Murdaugh, at Richland Memorial when he had the attack.